

AMERICAN LEGATION BOMB TARGET

ARREST TELLER FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

AUTHORITIES FIND $15,000 OF STOLEN BANK CASH IN COOP

Youth Arrested At Uncle's Farm—Lost Part of Loot

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 4.—Harold Williams, 35, paying teller of the Dollar Savings and Trust Company here, was held in jail in default of $40,000 bond today after leading police to a chicken coop, where he had chanced $15,000 of the $30,000 he is accused of embezzling.

The paying teller was arrested at the farm home of his uncle, Walter Coddington, 48 hours after bank officials discovered alleged shortages in his accounts. The total defalcations at first were estimated at $50,000 but this figure has been reduced to $30,000, bank officials said.

Williams today reiterated, according to police, that he lost $10,000 speculating on the stock market and $5,000 in a Niles, Ohio, gambling hall.

After a severe grilling the teller late yesterday led police to the chicken coop—situated in the Coddington premises—where he revealed the $15,000 cache. Coddington said he was unaware of Williams' plight and had no knowledge the money was hidden on his farm.

Auditors continued checking Williams' accounts following the paying teller's arraignment before Justice of the Peace Charles Martin. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded to jail.

Williams admitted he intended fleeing to Canada, according to the county prosecutor, who said his case would be considered by the September grand jury.

The loss sustained by the bank was covered by insurance. Williams' bonding company will prosecute him.

NIGHT RIDERS ARE REVEALED AT TROY

TROY, O., June 4.—A new society known as the "Night Riders of America" and members of which wear black robes and hoods with white skull and cross-bones as insignias, is flourishing in this district, according to Sheriff Mont Spillman.

Spillman and deputies were called out during the night after Robert Shroyer, Troy motorist, said members of the organization attempted to stop his automobile on a lonely road south of here.

There were twenty-five robed men in the gang and several of them were armed, according to Shroyer. They were meeting in an abandoned house, he said. When questioned by officers, the leader of the society said they stopped Shroyer because they believed he was an intruder. Spillman said he obtained the names of several of the men.

SEND BATTLESHIP TO SUBDUDE CRISIS

MALTA, June 4.—A British battleship was en route today from this Mediterranean Naval Base to Egypt, where the political crisis arising from the Nationalist victory of the polls is still threatening, although no longer so potentially dangerous as at first. The battleship is the Resolution.

It is said here that additional naval vessels will probably be sent to Egypt.

DOCTOR STABS MAN AFTER QUARREL

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 4.—An operation may be performed today in an effort to save the life of Stuart E. Bowman, Huntington motorist who was stabbed in the throat by Dr. D. P. Craddock. A quarrel over a law suit resulted in the stabbing, according to police who arrested the physician on charges of cutting with intent to kill.

CAN'T USE MAILS

COLUMBUS, O., June 4.—Federal officials today forbade use of the mails to the Moore Advertising Co., Zanesville, charging the concern had been using the mails to promote a fraudulent employment scheme. The action was taken on complaint of the Zanesville Better Business Bureau. The company advertised extensively, it was said, charging a fee from each "client" it served.

It is believed here the bomb attack is connected with the protest of radical organizations throughout Latin-America against the recent decision of the Massachusetts supreme court denying a new trial to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo VanZetti, convicted of murder.

Radicals all over the world charged that the conviction was a "frame up" and was due to the men's political beliefs.

A similar attempt to destroy the American Embassy at Buenos Aires was made on May 17. Attempts have been made against American Legations in Paris and other European cities during the last three years while the Sacco-VanZetti case has been on trial.

State Department drafts Plans To Aid Institution

STEEBENVILLE, O., June 4.—A story of missing records, manipulation of savings and commercial accounts, and alleged forgeries credited as assets, was told by County Prosecutor Roy Merryman, today in connection with the failure of the Union Savings Bank of Yorkville. Two officials of the institution have been arrested.

The prosecutor made his revelations after a conference with state bank examiners and other officials. Intimating arrest of others implicated in the bank's affairs may be expected momentarily. Meanwhile officials of the state banking department, were drafting plans to rehabilitate the institution.

Ralph B. Cohen, counsel for the men under arrest—W. E. Jones and his brother, Thomas—has been apprised of the situation. Merryman said, and has been asked to aid in the search for missing records.

After the conference, directors of the bank assembled at the home of Christopher W. Heil, Yorkville, president, to consider plans to avoid litigation. A plan for rehabilitation was submitted by ex-Congressman W. B. Francis, a director.

Col. Frank A. Hunter of the state banking department said the bank had 2,500 depositors with deposits aggregating $900,000. A score of alleged irregularities have been revealed, he asserted.

Small groups of anxious depositors still milled about the bank today.

SPRINGFIELD, June 4.—Excitement prevailed on the campus of Wittenberg College today following the expulsion of four co-eds and one male student on charges of intoxication. Names of the students were withheld.

The expulsions were announced by college authorities without comment, other than "drinking will not be tolerated at Wittenberg college."

One of the students was a senior it was said.

PREMIER BARTEL OF POLAND RESIGNS

BERLIN, June 3.—Resignation of Premier Bartel, of Poland and his cabinet, was reported today in dispatches from Warsaw.

Barcel formed a cabinet after the successful revolution lead by Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, three weeks ago.

TO GRADUATE CLASS

COLUMBUS, O., June 4.—Capital University will graduate nine-ty-nine students in the various departments in the sixty-sixth annual commencement next month. It was announced today. Thirty-three students will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts and twenty will be graduated from the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary.

Daniel F. Steck, who defeated Brookhart in the general elections, won his senatorial seat through similar tactics, it was pointed out. The principal Democratic candidate is Claude R. Porter, who polled 300,000 votes against Cummins six years ago.

The third Republican candidate, Howard W. Clark, in urging voters to see through this Democratic strategy and to refuse to nominate either Cummins or Brookhart.

Former Senator Smith W. Brookhart, the progressive who recently was defeated for his senate chair by a recount vote.

It was around these two that political talk was centering, even the Democrats—who have four contestants in the field—watching closely in the hope of making gains through weaknesses shown by either of the two Republicans.

Democratic strategy, this year, according to political observers, is pointed at picking up the disgruntled Republican votes. They contend Brookhart's nomination will mean a large part of the Cummins voters will swing to the Democratic ticket and that Cummins' nomination will mean Brookhart supporters will vote for a Democrat.

Neither gates nor servants were impressed by the storm of rage which Miriam hurled at them. The gates held fast on their hinges against her shaking and kicking. The constable admitted he was unable to help her and finally she retired to Spring Green.

Last night Wright returned to his estate and announced any further efforts on Miriam's part would be repulsed.

Miriam, however, insisted she would return and again storm the gates. She asserts she is still legally wedded to Wright and is entitled to live in his home.

Wright contends Miriam deserted him when he wanted her and now she can live elsewhere.

CINCINNATI ACTION TO DETERMINE TIME QUESTION IN XENIA

While the Daylight Savings time question continues to furnish a passive topic for discussion in Xenia and the county, city officials are sincere in the opinion it is only a question of a short time until Xenia as well as the entire state will be operating on Eastern Standard or advanced time the year around.

Xenia and other cities will watch with interest the outcome of a vote on the question to be taken by Cincinnati at its August primary.

Eastern Standard time will be placed before the people at this time and other cities will be indirectly influenced by the result.

Fast time for the entire year is certain to go before the next session of the legislature in the form of a bill, city officials are convinced. The prediction is made Ohio will be operating on advanced time inside of three years at the most.

Railroads would adopt the time and cities must necessarily follow suit, it is said.

TWO ASK DIVORCE IN XENIA COURTS

Suit for divorce has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Bertha Webb against Wesley Webb on grounds of wilful absence from home. They were married May 25, 1920, and have one child, Helen, aged three. Plaintiff asks custody of the child.

Van B. Dettie has initiated suit for divorce from Edna J. Dettie charging gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. They were married February 12, 1923.

Plaintiff charges his wife became so violent that at one time she seized a plate and struck him on the arm, breaking it.

DIVORCE NOT GRANTED

In the case of Hazel Fudge against George A. Fudge in Common Pleas Court, plaintiff was awarded $5 weekly alimony instead of a divorce as previously announced. She had sued on grounds of gross neglect of duty and abandonment.

Through the untiring efforts of Mr. Elmer Weizel, one of the best programs of any preceding Memorial Day was rendered at the school house on Monday afternoon. The program consisted of an address by the Rev. Young and a number of select selections of readings and songs by the young people of the community. Three Civil War soldiers, C. C. Austin, Wilson Bumgardner and Frank Allen, occupied seats on the stage. The front row of seats were reserved for the World War boys. DEPARTMENT STORES

One of Our Stores Will Be Located Here Soon!

THE story of the J. C. Penney Company, which will soon open a link of its great family of Department Stores here, is an important chapter in the history of modern storekeeping methods. It is more than important! It is inspiring! It is a story of a business with a Big Idea behind it—an Idea that is clean, clear cut! The Big Idea with us for a score and more of years has been and is today, the patent fact that it is unfailingly governed by the Golden Rule: "Whatsoever ye would that others should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." Every customer pays the one and same price! No more! No less! And that price assures a superior value! No so-called "sales"! No discounts! No charge accounts! The same square deal and just treatment alike to all—and all the time!

In all our hundreds of Department Stores, distributed over the United States,

The Supreme Endeavor IS SERVICE—

SERVICE qualified by courteous attention of salespeople to customers and their wants.

SERVICE by unfailingly providing quality and enduring satisfaction.

SERVICE by affording prices which assure economy for superior quality goods.

The J. C. Penney Company assures you quality and fair play.

MR. JAMES C. PENNEY

in 1902, opened a small general store at Kemmerer, Wyoming. Such stores were typical of the times. Out of this one-town, one-man, one-store business has grown a Nation-Wide Institution of Department Stores. Its operations today offer a sharp contrast to those of a quarter century ago.

Then a few hundred people were served. Now millions of people are served by the 676 J. C. Penney Company Department Stores which are scattered from Coast to Coast and from the Gulf to the Great Lakes. Today but four States—Delaware, Florida, Rhode Island and Vermont—remain out of this great family of Economy Shopping Centers, and soon they will join the others.

A Personal Word:

We are addressing ourselves to the families in this community and vicinity whom we do not yet number among our customers and friends!

It being impossible to tell our story by word of mouth so that all may hear, we ask your consideration of the facts which we will print previous to our opening that you may know the kind of organization that the J. C. Penney Company is and the kind of Department Stores it conducts which "serve more than a million homes."

J.C. Penney Co.

Our Popular Department Stores

bring a country-wide advantage to the very threshold of your home—to the threshold of millions of homes in town and on the farm and in the most remote towns and communities. They bring to the housewife and to each member of her home, the great joy of personal inspection and selection of stylish, reliable goods before buying.

These 676 Stores—the largest unit of Dry Goods, Clothing and Shoe distributing centers in the World—are available to additional hundreds of thousands of families because of the good roads that have been built. The long, tedious journeys by horse and wagon of yesteryears have been reduced to a few hours' run in the automobile.

The Meaning to You and Your Family of a 676-Store Buying Power

THE fact that the Organization of which this new Store is to be a part, is opening scores of Stores this year, naturally has little interest to you except as to how these many Stores, and particularly the one soon to be opened here, will benefit you.

Compare, if you will, the results obtained by an engine of 1-horsepower with that of one of 676-horsepower! How insignificant the little engine becomes!

The 676-Store Buying Power of this Organization assures you the lowest possible prices at all times for a uniformly reliable quality of goods. This means much to you.

Buying most we buy for less, and selling most we sell for less. Our buying and selling power means that you are to have a saving power here that will enable you to keep many additional dollars in the family purse during each year.

Cash Buying a Vital Factor to You!

Another meaning our Stores have for you: We sell for cash only! Therefore, you get the full benefit from our cash buying. Having no "charge accounts," we do not sustain losses from non-collectable bills which cash buyers are called upon to make up by paying higher prices. The same, square, even treatment is accorded alike to all always.

We ask you to carry home your purchases. Thus you are saved the cost of an expensive delivery system.

Our constant aim is to pack all the value into each purchase you make from us that is possible and to that end the fullest resources of this Organization are drawn upon that your every experience may be one of lasting pleasure, satisfaction and profit.

What can I do? "O H, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?"

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red-blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives away pimples, black heads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

Are Corn Cures Beautifiers?

And the answer is Y-E-S! most decidedly! No one with a corn can strut or smile or radiate good cheer or have an unwrinkled set of features. We carry 9 different CORN removers, one of which we highly recommend.

A Peculiar Thing—HAIR!

On certain well defined areas, HAIR is quite stylish, while on OTHER equally defined but NOT mentioned areas, it's sure a tabooed growth and is fought valiantly by thoughtful lady folks. Our De Miracle at $1.00 is an A1 REMOVER while our "93" Hair Tonic at $1.00 is as equally strong GROWER and BOTH of these classify as beautifiers!

Are You Nicely "Finished!"

Take an old musty looking chifferlaw which has good lines, good wood and is well put together. Put a REAL FINISH on it and it becomes the most valuable piece of furniture in the home. But how about your OWN PERSONAL SELF? Are you allowing blotches and spots to mar YOUR FINISH? Try Rexall Shaving Lotion after you shave and watch your beauty grow! Get a real finish.

No Brush Needed!

A brush lots of times gets sorta smelly and loose in the bristles and especially does this apply to the male who travels and many times puts his brush away WET! This Barbasol at 65c a tube is merely "rubbed on" and after a minute a razor slips thru the tuff beard slicker'n grease. Try a small tube first!

Here's a Hot Letter!

Week before last I wrote here about how "Women Pay" and how statistics prove that women are paying $5,000,000 a DAY for beautification purposes!

Last Tuesday I got a long, carefully written letter evidently from a lady here in town who takes a long hard swat at my remarks! It was so good I thought it would be worth printing—part of it. She says:

"How much do MEN spend in shaving soap, razors, cigars, tobacco, flasks, cold creams, dentifrices—NOT to mention a WORD about their BOOTLEGGERS? Have you the figures on THESE items? Are women any more fussy about their persons and personALITIES than one of these godly MALES? You men like to sit back and smile indulgently at what you are pleased to call feminine frivolousness and sort of pat us on our head, so to speak, and say: 'Naughty, naughty, be careful now, little girl, of great big poppas penies' then trot right out and blow plenty dollars on some OTHER fool thing not NEARLY as worth while as We spend OURS for."

"Sometimes you men give me a great big pain! What if we DO spend $5,000,000 a day to look good, feel good and BE good! We GET something for OUR money while you spend I'll bet a heap more than us on things that NEVER show, are of no value, and GET you nothing."

I wish I had more space to give some more of what she wrote for it sure did lay us men out cold! And for the life of me, I don't see where she got her peevish for certainly I didn't say one SOUR word about that $5,000,000 a day.

DOC SAYRE.

Shorty Says:-

My friend Amos claims that every time a girl blushes now days she scorches a dime's worth of rouge but ask a man what Lock, Stock and Barrel refers to and you'll find that it's NOT a GUN he's talking about and BOTH of these folks get along just lovely. I hate to see Doc get in arguments of this sort.

MEN Is Your Hair Friendly?

Do you take off your hat with a sweeping Chesterfieldian gesture fearlessly allowing the fresh breezes to blow as they will, KNOWING that your hair will STAY IN PLACE? HA! Use STACOMB and a Pocket Comb regularly and it will give you a confidence in your appearance not obtainable otherwise. We carry these—both of 'em—in large variety.

Police And Fountain News!

Sodas nowadays are struttin' plenty high—It's the weather, of course, if you MUST know why. They're all struck up and blusky and red; Their popularity has gone to their head.

We've got them here any size or shape—Flavors from Nectar to Malaga Grape. So trickle in and bring your thirst—The third one'll taste as good as the first.

A Woman Notes MANY Things!

You may THINK you're getting away with it but MOST of the time you're NOT! The growth of messy cuticle about your nails, the uneven edges and cracked corners tell her a story of neglect and indifference she generally disapproves of. One of these limber, keen edge files, pocket size, are of big help in a mess of this sort. Cost only 20c each.

THE BEST MONTH

THIS is the year's tip top month. It brings the longest days and the best days. June grass is cleanest and June trees are greenest. It is the month of gay blossoms and high-floating clouds. Average all the Junes of your lifetime and you will find that the result approximates the year's perfection.

And yet for a good reason, we labor through June instead of making the best month our chosen month of rest and play. The reason is that the hot, tiresome summer months loom ahead of June. In order to be privileged to loaf in June most of us would be compelled to pay the penalty of working through July and August. The prospect would be so disheartening that it would mar the pleasure of a June vacation.

Even though we must make June a work month we may, if we are resourceful, enjoy June's gifts. We may save our off-hours for little trips into the country, or we may putter about our own premises and persuade ourselves that we are working while in reality we are only making yard or garden activity an excuse for soaking ourselves in the glory of the month. We may, for once, decline to take June for granted.

We make take an aggressively active interest in the rich and solacing verdure; we may make a mental note that June sunshine and June clouds are joys to be received with enthusiastic gratitude instead of being accepted merely as a matter of course. Our mental attitude has a great deal to do with our enjoyment of June. Working or loafing, as we choose, make much or little of the year's best month.

THE INSTINCT TO KILL

EVERY winter come reports of the slaughtering in the West of wild animals forced from the mountains of the protected national parks by the heavy snows into the clutches of "sportsmen." Every fall from those states where legislatures provide open seasons for hunting and the licensing of hunters issue statements of vast numbers of huntsmen in field and forest and of the extent of their prey.

Civilization with its varied departments of business, religion, education and culture, after these many centuries has been unable to erase the human instinct to kill. To be sure, wars are less frequent and the taking of human life is punishable by death, but the process of evolution is slow and the perfection of humanity still slower. For many generations hence men, and women, too, will continue to be inspired in the wanton slaying of the innocent denizens of the open spaces and the wooded hills.

Conceded that the world was created for the perpetuation and good of mankind, there was a time when the killing of wild animals was vindicated by man's need of food. Perhaps there are still instances where the wild beings of the woods are sacrificed to appease man's hunger but too often hunting in this day and age is the satisfying of man's inherited instinct to kill.

It is futile to hope for something different in the future for the hunter is rapidly and persistently increasing in numbers. There is some consolation in the concern which the states and the federal government are showing in the preservation of wild life. To this concern and it only is the nation indebted for the fact that there still exists some animal life in its wild state.

BATTALION INSPECTION AT O. S. AND S. O. HOME OVER WEEK END

Inspection of the Cadet Battalion of the O. S. and S. O. Home will be conducted at the institution Saturday and Sunday according to Major Leroy V. John, military commander.

Colonel Don L. Caldwell, 147th Infantry, Cincinnati, assisted by Major Richard Smithurst, 147th Infantry, Cincinnati and other officers, will conduct the inspection.

The ceremonies will start Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the battalion will form in parade and be inspected in formation as well as appearance of uniforms, personal appearance and other details.

The general inspection will be followed by a series of specialties by each company. Company D will present calisthenics; Company A will give close order drill, silent manual and cadence drill; Company C will give extended order drill and demonstration of a company in attack.

Specialty of Company B will be held over until Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, when it will give guard mount. A dress parade of the battalion will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock when a saber will be awarded the captain of the company making the best showing.

Members of the American Legion Post from Cincinnati will attend the Sunday afternoon dress parade and there will probably be representatives also of Footy Post, this city.

Visiting officers will be guests over the week-end of Colonel and Mrs. T. E. Andrews, superintendent and chief matron of the Home.

Last inspection of the battalion was conducted October 12, 1924 by Major Paschal and Captain Johnson of the 166th Infantry at which time Captain Smith of Company B, was presented the saber award.

SPRING VALLEY

Plans for Memorial Day were considerably spoiled here owing to the rain in the morning. The children were taken in the school truck instead of marching as planned. The address by Rev. Walley was given in the town hall. The people of the community very much appreciated having some of the American Legion present to take part at the cemetery. A large crowd was present in spite of the rain.

Mr. James Finley and friend of Cincinnati, were guests of Mrs. Anna Finley, Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Moorman and Miss Bertha Day, of Jamestown, were guests Monday of Mrs. Alice Johnson and daughter.

Mrs. Flora Mason visited the first part of the week with her son Irwin, and family, of Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hults and daughter, of Albany, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mella and daughter, of Xenia, were Sunday guests of Miss Rebecca Sanders and Miss Minerva Linscott.

Mrs. Ed Kincaid, Dayton, visited Mrs. Flora Mason, Saturday.

Children's Day at the Friends Church will be observed June 13.

Mrs. Margaret Stephenson and Mr. and Mrs. Stultz and children spent the week end with Mrs. Flora Mason.

Rev. W. E. Bogan is taking a vacation during the month of June in order to help in the recovery of Mrs. Bogan, who has been very ill.

Read of Other Women Who Found Health

Brooklyn, New York—Mrs. G. Hegmann of 35 Central Ave., was in a run-down condition and could not do her housework. She could not sleep at night. Her story is not an unusual one. Thousands of women find themselves in a similar condition at some time in their lives. "I found your advertisement in my letter box," wrote Mrs. Hegmann, "and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got relief." Mrs. Hegmann also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Herb Medicine and Lydia E. Pinkham's Pills for Constipation, with good results. She says, "I am recommending your medicines to all I know who have symptoms the same as mine, and to others whom I think it will help. You may use my statement as a testimonial, and I will answer any letters sent to me by women who would like information regarding your medicines."

There are women in your state—perhaps in your town—who have written letters similar to this one telling how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped them.

With continued cold weather, formal opening of the pool has been delayed. Music will be furnished by Harmony Kings. A grand march will be staged around the entire pool, by all those taking part in the contest, in bathing suits. A six-year old "mascot" of the swimmers will lead the march.

Events of the evening include: fifty yard dash, swimming to choose his own style of stroke, for boys fifteen years of age and over.

Free-for-all tub race, using hands or feet, no paddles allowed for the entire length of the pool.

Girls twenty-five yard dash, free style stroke.

Duck-catching contest. Relay race—two five-men teams. Fancy diving contest, not less than three dives for the man and not more than five divers' own choice.

Boys' twenty-five yard dash, free style, boys fourteen years of age or under.

Three judges will decide all the contests. The carnival will start at 7 o'clock prompt. Program will be carried forward without delay.

Entrants must register before the contest, between Friday and Tuesday night. Handsome prizes will be awarded winners in each division.

THREE CANDIDATES HAVE FILED PAPERS

Three declarations of candidacy, one each for the Republican nomination for sheriff, state senator and for clerk of courts, subject to the August 10 primary, were filed with Earl Short, clerk of the board of elections, Wednesday.

Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam filed his petition for re-election; L. T. Marshall for re-election for a second term as Republican state senator from the Fifty-Sixth Senatorial District, and Harry R. Cramer, Bath, Twp., Republican, entered the race for sheriff.

Cramer's entry is unexpected. He will be opposed for the office by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn and possibly Ohmer Tate, Pennsylvania railroad employee. Cramer is a former member of the Xenia Police Department.

BOWLING

Another leading contender for the Class C championship of the city's individual bowling tournament has fallen by the wayside leaving but two mineralite artists in the field for the honor of meeting the Class A and Class B winners in the championship match.

Jesse Anderson is the latest Class C bowler to drop away. He lost one in three games to Curt Free also forfeiting his chance to tie Perry Swindler for leadership in this division.

Carl Higley is the only other bowler in this division with a chance to tie Swindler for first place.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Most men and women past fifty chronically constipated. It never must give to the bowels some occasional help else they suffer from constipation. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels.

Is your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting natural bowel "regularity"—or must you purge and "physic" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

JACOB AND ESAU

GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you, Ephesians 4:32.

LESSON TEXT: Genesis 25:19-34; 26:34-28; 9; 32:3-33:17.

TIME—Jacob's return to Canaan, B. C. 1747 (Beecher) Jacob being 98 years old, Joseph 6 years, and Isaac 157 years.

PLACE:—On the Jabbok, the eastern tributary of the Jordan.

INTRODUCTION—Jacob journeyed from Bethel to Paddan-aram and lived in the home of his uncle Laban, who was his match in cunning, and who deceived Jacob in his marriage to his daughter, Jacob was to receive Rachel, whom he loved, for his seven years of labor for Laban, but Laban gave the more-eyed, Leah, eldest daughter, veiled, in the place of Rachel. But he labored another seven years for the one he really loved. He served Laban six years more for some cattle. When he fled to his uncle's home he did not think that twenty years of intrigue and treachery on the part of his uncle, would pass before he went back home. But his uncle paid him in the coin in which he had paid both his father and brother. Jacob was now 77 years old with two wives, eleven sons and large flocks, a rich man. The friction became greater with Laban because God had prospered Jacob and his father-in-law became more and more jealous. So because of this friction, his desire to return home, and God's command caused him to start back to his old home. He knew that he would have trouble with Laban if he latter knew that he was leaving so he departed in secret. When Laban overtook him he dictated terms with him. He was rid of the angry Laban, so he sent messengers ahead to investigate whether Esau was still in the same frame of mind as when he left him twenty years ago. These men reported that Esau was coming to meet him with 400 armed men. Jacob thought that his time had come so he wisely divided his party into two groups, so that if his brother captured one group he would thus be able to save the other. Here our lesson begins.

A CHANGED JACOB—Jacob had sent his people and flocks ahead, across the brook Jacob, and he was alone on this side. He was ready to go across himself and that night a strange personage appeared and he wrestled with Jacob and when he apparently could, or did not, throw Jacob he touched his thigh and thus disabled Jacob and then the latter realized that he had wrestled all night with a messenger of God. What was God's purpose in this. It was to transform him. After all these years Jacob was the same man, scheming etc., and he was not in just the frame of mind and heart that God desired of the man whom He was to put at the head of the new race of the covenant. God did not wish to crush but conquer Jacob and in this wrestling He made Jacob realize that he was mere clay in His hands. In this way Jacob changed as quickly as Paul was formed from the Saul, by the great ray of light from heaven on the road. We must give up our imperious self will and yield absolutely to God before we can hope to become strong in His power and might.

2. JACOB'S PRECAUTION: Jacob was a changed man but he was not sure that Esau had changed in his attitude toward him. He had sent large gifts out to Esau to appease his wrath but he looked out of 400 armed men he took extra precaution and divided his own band into three groups, in front went his two handmaidens, with their children, next came Leah and her children, and last and safest came Rachel with Joseph, his most precious. Jacob was transformed, yet in some ways he was still the same Jacob, as Peter was the same and as Paul was still Paul. Jacob prayed as though all depended on God and then he helped as though all depended on himself. After sinning prayer God will help and direct us but He expects us to use our own will, etc., to carry out what He does direct.

3. JACOB MEETS ESAU: Jacob drew near to Esau and bowed seven times to the ground before him, thus acknowledging his wrong to Esau. God's plan worked. Esau suddenly rushed forward and wept on Jacob's neck instead of bringing vengeance on him. Thoughts of Mother, Father, and home dissolved for the spirit of patience, charity and forgiveness. But most of us are too busy to think of such things, but if we take time to heed this warning and entertain that spirit we will enrich our lives with something that will elevate us to a high degree of satisfaction and attainment in life that will draw us nearer and nearer to those we love and consider our friends. "If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar, for if he loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, he cannot love God whom he hath not seen." (1 John 4:20.)

4. ESAU REFUSES TO ACCEPT JACOB'S GIFT: Esau inquired about his wives and children and Jacob informed him that God had been good to him and that the cattle were a gift to him (Esau) but this Esau stated that he had enough of his own. His friendship and forgiveness was not to be commercialized. Few of us think that we have enough and seem to plan everything by the dollar standard. This degrades and makes vulgar the truest and finest relations and richest treasures of life. Paul discovered the better way and happy secret of life when he said: "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therein to be content." (Philippians 4:11.)

5. A GIFT ACCEPTED: Jacob did not take advantage of Esau's rejection of the former gift but stated, "Take, I pray thee, my gift that is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with me, and because I have enough." It was a gift from the heart. He was happy to give because he knew that all was the gift to him from God. We have not learned the fact that it is more blessed to give than to receive, and when we come to the realization that all things are the gift of God we will become more charitable and consecrate all to His service.

Let us strive to be just in all things and see that all men have enough. We can not forgive or be forgiven until we are just.

THE CHURCH AND THE MAN

Some time ago a man said, "This is the first time I have been in a church for ten years." He had no doubt been spending his Sundays at business, or auto trips, golfing, fishing or hunting. He had given the church very little thought of the work it was doing very little attention. All this time he was ignoring the church he was receiving benefits from it. His property advanced in price and was made safe by the influence of the church. The society he lived in and his blessings and luxury he enjoyed were made possible by the church. You could not persuade him to move his family to a churchless city. For the sake of his business, his home and his children, he wishes to live in the church community, and yet he never did one thing for the church. He never attended the services, or contributed a cent to its support. If all people would assume the same attitude toward the church as he, the church would go out of existence in a short time and the country lapse back into barbarism.

No man can escape the responsibility that rests upon him for what he ought to do. Are you this man? If so stop and consider the greatest asset to any city, which is the Church and line up in its services and support. The Churches of the city invite you.

BIBLE STORY

Since it could be no better, Jacob agreed. The feast ran its course, and when the week was done, he wedded Rachel, and then for seven years more he served for his wife, as he had served seven years for the promise of her, and Jacob learned that craft was always met with craft; for he and his uncle a well matched pair, strove all these years to see which could get the better of the other. Ten times Laban changed his nephew's wages but ever the more he strove to overreach Jacob, the more the profit seemed to turn to the young man, till Laban's sons were furious with envy and growled, "Jacob had robbed us of all of our father's wealth."

Small love had ever been between the two; but now it was less than ever and Jacob saw it. So he called Rachel and Leah out to the open pasture where he might speak with none to hear. There he told them of all the envy and falseness with which their father had treated him, and also how God had spoken to him, bidding him to return to Canaan with his children. Rachel and Leah needed little persuasion. "What is our father to us, or what does he care for us?" They said. "He sold us, and gained the price of us himself; and now he treats us as strangers. Thank God you have gained something from him for us and our children. Do thou what is in thy heart, as God hath bidden thee."

Now it happened at this time that Laban went to another camp for the sheep shearing. So Jacob gathered his wives, children, 11 sons and one daughter who had been born to him and them, and the servants and all the wealth and herds that he had gained. His wives and children he put upon camels, and, driving his flocks before him, he journeyed away from the Land of the Rivers towards his old home. Ere they fled from Haran, Rachel stole from her father's house the fetich images in which he trusted and bore them with her. It may be that she feared their power in her father's hands, but rather we think she merely wished to vex her father by their loss.

Not for three days did Laban hear of the flight. Then, gathering his clan, he pressed after the lumbering caravan in hot pursuit across the desert; and, after the seven days haste, he overtook the fugitives in the outskirts of Mount Gilead, on the east side of Jordan. Fain would he have done Jacob a mischief, for his heart was hot with anger, but God spoke to him in a dream at night and forbid he spoke fiercely. "Why hast thou carried off my daughters like slaves in a foray? Why all this secret stealing away? Why didst thou not tell me, that I might send thee away with feasting and music, and kiss my daughters and grandchildren ere we parted? Easily could I harm thee now, but God has held my hand. Yet, even though thy longing for home was so sore, what need to steal my fetich from me?"

Now Jacob knew not that Rachel had stolen the fetich from him. "If one of mine has stolen thy fetich," he cried, "he shall die. Search for thine own and take it to thee." So Jacob sought in Jacob's tent, and Leah's and the servants' tents but he found of his could find. Last, he went into the tent of Rachel but his daughter had hid the fetich in the camel-saddle and sat upon it. So Laban was baffled and upon it. So Laban was baffled and upon it. So Laban was baffled and upon it.

"Not Possible To Classify"

By Mack Sauer

I REMEMBER
I remember, I remember.
The ward where I was born;
The nurse went 'round barefooted.
Because she had a corn.
I slept upon a little bed.
All fenced around with slats;
And by my side upon their cots.
Lay forty other brats.
I remember, I remember,
How seven times a day,
They took me to my mother,
And then took me away.
I remember, I remember,
How hard I used to cry.
And how the doctor let me
Play ball with his glass eye.
I remember, I remember,
The day they named me Mack.
Altho I did not like the name,
I did not dare talk back.
For hours I cried while from the halls,
Came chattering of tongues;
The nurses said, "Just let him yell,
It's splendid for his lungs."
I remember, I remember,
How sore I was at Fate;
Being born in a hospital,
I cannot now be great.
Oh, if in some log cabin,
I'd first seen light of day,
I might have gone to Congress—
Dear readers, let us pray.

To save me I can't imagine what those words—"a rag, a bone and a hank of hair" mean, unless they refer to hash.
That would not be a bad definition for such a collection. Nice collection of ads on this page today, folks.

ENGINEERS REPORT PROGRESS IS BEING MADE WITH PAVING

Engineers report that such excellent progress is being made in connection with the remodeling of the Columbus and Cincinnati Road on the eight mile stretch in Xenia and Spring Valley Twp. that the improvement will probably be completed by the latter part of August or early in September.

The work was started in April and the new stretch of road is being paved with surface-treated macadam from the Xenia Corporation line. This is being rapidly completed with the exception of a stretch of .673 mile in Spring Valley village, for which no contract has been awarded.

Material for the macadam treatment is obtained from the Abel magnesia quarries at Cedarville, the Casparis quarries at Centerville and Melvin and the Ohio marble quarries at Piqua.

Improvement has been advanced to such a stage by the N. B. Putnam Co. contracting firm, of Port Wayne, that detour signs may be removed by August 1. The stretch, when completed will rival the Springfield and Xenia Pike in beauty and will be as serviceable as any to be found in any section of the state. It is said.

Xenia will greatly benefit by the completion of another such hard-surfaced road, engineers believe. More business will be attracted because more motorists will be influenced to take this route and all roads leading from the city will be hard-surfaced and in excellent condition.

The Xenia route is the shortest between Columbus and Cincinnati and when the present improvement is completed considerable more traffic will be directed this way, it is said. Until the Selma-London section is paved however, the expected realignment of traffic from the Washington C. H.-Hillsboro, Washington C. H.-Wilmington and Middletown-Hamilton routes will not be experienced.

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Husband Tamer," "One Wife on Approval," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

NANCY LARRABEE is living with her mother.

VIRGINIA LELAND, in New York. Nancy's husband, an army officer, is stationed in the Philippines, and has left his wife behind. She believes that he cares more for another woman than he does for her.

While visiting in the Bahamas Islands Nancy falls in love with

BILL EWING, and returns to New York, planning to get a divorce and marry him. Her mother is much interested in

FRANK HARRISON, an elderly bachelor.

Nancy received word that Jim has died at sea.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XLII--ANOTHER MESSAGE

THE next day I received a note from Nathalie Jordan. She had sent it to the apartment, and Frank Harrison brought it to the hotel and left it there for me.

"I can't understand your saying that you didn't ever want to see Bill again," she had written. "Won't you please explain? He will be here very soon."

She had signed it "With love, Nathalie."

I realized that I ought to see her, but somehow I couldn't. Nothing mattered but Jim's death.

Virginia had so many things on her mind, because of her reconciliation with my father, that she bothered very little with me. But when I told her that I had heard from Nancy she immediately took the time to discuss my affairs.

"You say Bill Ewing wants to marry you?" she said. "Well, unless you're completely lost your senses you'll marry him--after a decent time, of course. Don't be silly, Nancy. Remember, you were quite willing to stay here with me when Jim went off to the Philippines. You just think you cared more for him than you really did. I can't blame you; having him die so suddenly would make you feel that way, of course. But, after all, you'll get over this before long. And Bill Ewing has lots of money; his father was old Colonel Ewing, and was worth millions, and Bill inherited half the fortune he left."

I just couldn't answer her. It seemed incredible that she could talk that way. But Virginia had always considered the main chance before anything else.

"After Jim's funeral you might go away somewhere," she went on. "You'll find that it won't be long before you'll be very glad indeed to see your old friends. Now, let me telephone Nathalie Jordan for you, and ask her to come in this afternoon for a little while. You owe her that because she's been such a good friend to you."

She went to the telephone, and I left the room. I couldn't quite understand how it happened that Virginia, mercenary as she was, had left town just as Frank Harrison was about to propose to her, and come back to my father, whom she had divorced. She had always quarreled with him bitterly; I couldn't believe that there was much real affection there.

FAMILY GROUPS IN EMPLOY OF RAILWAY

A striking example of Pennsylvania Railroad service running in families is shown by the present assignment of engineers and firemen in Xenia, Ohio, territory on the Cincinnati Division.

Of the 60 employees assigned to this branch of service more than 20 per cent of the number on the Xenia board have other members of their immediate families in the same assignment.

H. A. Esterline, engineer, Dayton yard, is the brother of C. C. Esterline, now firing on east end local, Xenia lay-over. The Elliott brothers, W. A. and L. W., are assigned as firemen in Xenia yard and on Xenia extra list, respectively.

Fireman W. A. Hoog is on east end local, Columbus lay-over, and his brother, H. A. Hoog, fires in Springfield yard. Their father, W. P. Hoog, is second track foreman at Xenia enginehouse, and another brother, Cliff Hoog, is brakeman in Xenia yard.

L. E. Murray, engineer, Dayton yard, is the brother of J. F. Murray, firing Nos. 944 and 995. Engineer W. R. Rickles, now firing in Xenia yard, has a brother G. L. Rickles, fireman, in Dayton yard.

S. E. Snyder, engineer, Nos. 945 and 994, has two sons in the same assignment, H. K. Snyder and S. P. Snyder, firemen, both working on the extra list. Another son, O. H. Snyder, is also in the service as a machinist on first track at Xenia enginehouse.—Pennsylvania News.

ARREST TELLER FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

AUTHORITIES FIND $15,000 OF STOLEN BANK CASH IN COOP

Youth Arrested At Uncle's Farm—Lost Part of Loot

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 4.—Harold Williams, 35, paying teller of the Dollar Savings and Trust Company here, was held in jail in default of $40,000 bond today after leading police to a chicken coop, where he had chached $15,000 of the $30,000 he is accused of embezzling.

The paying teller was arrested at the farm home of his uncle, Walter Coddington, 48 hours after bank officials discovered alleged shortages in his accounts. The total defalcations at first were estimated at $50,000 but this figure has been reduced to $30,000, bank officials said.

Williams today reiterated, according to police, that he lost $10,000 speculating on the stock market and $5,000 in a Niles, Ohio, gambling hall.

After a severe grilling the teller yesterday led police to the chicken coop—situated in the Coddington premises—where he revealed the $15,000 cache. Coddington said he was unaware of Williams' plight and had no knowledge the money was hidden on his farm.

Auditors continued checking Williams' accounts following the paying teller's arraignment before Justice of the Peace Charles Martin. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded to jail.

Williams admitted he intended fleeing to Canada, according to the county prosecutor, who said his case would be considered by the September grand jury.

The loss sustained by the bank was covered by insurance. Williams' bonding company will prosecute him.

NIGHT RIDERS ARE REVEALED AT TROY

TROY, O., June 4.—A new society known as the "Night Riders of America" and members of which wear black robes and hoods with white skull and cross-bones as insignias, is flourishing in this district, according to Sheriff Mont Spillman.

Spillman and deputies were called out during the night after Robert Shroyer, Troy motorist, said members of the organization attempted to stop his automobile on a lonely road south of here.

There were twenty-five robed men in the gang and several of them were armed, according to Shroyer. They were meeting in an abandoned house, he said. When questioned by officers, the leader of the society said they stopped Shroyer because they believed he was an intruder. Spillman said he obtained the names of several of the men.

WETS WILL ABANDON POLICY TO SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT BILL

Promise To Fight Moves To Strengthen Dry Law

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Wets in congress have decided to abandon their policy of co-operation with the administration to adopt enforcement legislation and from now on they will fight.

Since enactment of the 18th amendment, the wets have staged no serious protest against the expenditure of money or advancement of legislation to enforce the law. Their policy has been to give enforcement all possible lee way. Senators Edge, Republican, New Jersey, leader of the senate wet bloc and Bruce, Democrat, Maryland, his right-hand man, announced today that in view of President Coolidge's executive order and the drastic provisions of the proposed Goff enforcement bill the wets had decided the time had come for resistance.

This means the Goff bill, written at the behest of Prohibition Chief Andrews to help him enforce the law this year, probably will not pass the senate before adjournment. "We do not want to use the remaining time of this session to discuss prohibition unless we are goaded to it," Edge told the United Press in making public his decision. "But if the Goff bill is brought forward we intend to discuss it fully. I am not making any challenges or threats. We will not subject it of such latitude that the entire question of prohibition attempt any filibuster. But the will have to be discussed."

ENFORCING DRY LAW HAS COST 140 LIVES SINCE PROHIBITION

Majority of Victims Bootleggers Says Federal Report

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Gun battles between federal dry agents and bootleggers, moonshiners and rum runners have resulted in 140 casualties since prohibition became effective, it was learned today from official figures.

Because of the growing fatality list, assistant secretary of the treasury Andrews has ordered his enforcement men to use their revolvers and rifles only in emergency and not to shoot except in self-defense.

Forty-nine prohibition officers have been killed in line of duty, while 92 persons evading or resisting arrest have been killed. Two dry officers have been killed this year. Dallas Robert was shot in a raid near Fresno, Calif., and V. E. Grant was killed chasing a liquor vendor near Hendersonville, N. C., this week.

Kentucky, West Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, where moonshiners operate in rural districts, is the most dangerous territory of the country, for government officers, they said. More dry agents have been killed in these states than in any other section.

Most of the slain dry officers lost their lives raiding stills and bootlegger caches. Several were murdered to prevent their giving evidence at trials.

Many of those killed by government officers, prohibition officials said were resisting arrest and it was necessary for the dry agent to shoot to protect his own life. Several persons were shot accidentally by careless handling of firearms, it was admitted.

MIDDIE REFUSES TO TAKE OATH

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 4.—An unwilling member of the U. S. Navy, Midshipman Earl Blake Zirkle of Kansas was ordered to sea today despite his repeated demands to be allowed to resign.

All precedents was broken at the annual commencement exercises of the naval academy when Zirkle refused to take the oath of allegiance to the United States.

He received his diploma unwillingly and fell in line with his classmates at the exercises only on orders from his superior officers.

He had already offered his resignation twice. He will be sent on the annual summer practice cruise which begins today, in the role of a midshipman and not of an ensign, it was said by officers of the academy.

Sixteen marriages, all coming in rapid succession followed the presentation of diplomas to the midshipmen. More are expected today.

FATHER, TWO CHILDREN FOUND DEAD IN COUPE

Suicide and Murder Verdict Of Police—Inner Tube Conveyed Exhaust Gas To Asphyxiate Auto Occupants

ELLSWORTH, O., June 4.—The bodies of William Barnes, Alliance, Ohio, and his two children, an eight-year-old girl and a boy, aged four, were found in Barnes' coupe near here, the victims of carbon monoxide fumes.

After an examination, police said Barnes had severed a rubber inner tube, tied one end of it over the exhaust pipe of his automobile, placed the other end in front of the car and started the motor. Barnes had the two children while they and himself were asphyxiated, police asserted. No motive for the deed was advanced.

The bodies were found by William Barnes, who notified Constable Henry Jones. Barnett said the automobile was directly behind the centralized school building. The doors and windows of the vehicle, with the exception of an aperture through which the inner tube had been inserted were tightly closed, he said.

Barnes, according to Barnett, sat slumped between the two children, an arm around each of them. Jones said he believed Barnes drove behind the school, last night and calmly proceeded to end his and his children's lives.

Youngstown authorities were communicated with and they in turn telephoned Alliance officers, who were asked to attempt to further identify Barnes.

BILL AUTHORIZING DIVERSION OF LAKE WATER IS APPROVED

Filibusters Wilt After Long Session In House

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Tired, sleepy congressmen, filibustering against the $36,000,000 rivers and harbors bill to prevent authorization of diversion of Great Lakes water into the Mississippi through the Illinois River, wilted early today after a thirteen-hour continuous session of the house and the bill was approved in committee of the whole. A final vote is expected this afternoon.

Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin representatives led opposition to the Illinois waterway project, arguing the $250 cubic feet of water a second, authorized to be diverted into the Chicago drainage canal, endangered shipping, reduced water levels and damaged all lake front property.

Twice during the long session the presiding officer ruled on points of order that important sections must be eliminated, but in each case the house voted to overrule him.

Besides dilatory tactics to show up the entire measure because it included the Illinois River item, the opponents tried to eliminate the item. Their motion was defeated 139 to 59.

Representative Burton, Republican, Ohio, who made the attempt described the Illinois proposition, as a "monstrosity," and Rep. Johnson, Republican, Washington, characterized it as a return to the "pork barrel."

The measure contains authorization for projects in inland and sea waterways all over the United States. It does not carry appropriation however, and the money must be supplied by later acts of congress before work can be carried out.

ATTORNEY REVEALS ACTS RESULTING IN BANK BREAKING UP

State Department Drafts Plans To Aid Institution

STEEBENVILLE, O., June 4.—A story of missing records, manipulation of savings and commercial accounts, and alleged forgeries credited as assets, was told by County Prosecutor Roy Merryman, today in connection with the failure of the Union Savings Bank of Yorkville. Two officials of the institution have been arrested.

The prosecutor made his revelations after a conference with state bank examiners and other officials. Intimating arrest of others implicated in the bank's affairs may be expected momentarily. Meanwhile officials of the state banking department, were drafting plans to rehabilitate the institution.

Ralph Cohen, counsel for the men under arrest—W. E. Jones and his brother, Thomas—has been apprised of the situation, Merryman said, and has been asked to aid in the search for missing records.

After the conference, directors of the bank assembled at the home of Christopher W. Hill, Yorkville, president, to consider plans to avoid litigation. A plan for rehabilitation was submitted by ex-Congressman W. B. Francis, a director.

Col. Frank A. Hunter of the state banking department said the bank had 2,500 depositors with deposits aggregating $900,000. A score of alleged irregularities have been revealed, he asserted.

CINCINNATI ACTION TO DETERMINE TIME QUESTION IN XENIA

While the Daylight Savings time question continues to furnish a passive topic for discussion in Xenia and the county, city officials are sincere in the opinion it is only a question of a short time until Xenia as well as the entire state will be operating on Eastern Standard or advanced time the year around.

Xenia and other cities will watch with interest the outcome of a vote on the question to be taken by Cincinnati at its August primary.

Eastern Standard time will be placed before the people at this time and other cities will be indirectly influenced by the result.

Fast time for the entire year is certain to go before the next session of the legislature in the form of a bill, city officials are convinced. The prediction is made Ohio will be operating on advanced time inside of three years at the most.

Railroads would adopt the time and cities must necessarily follow suit, it is said.

A Personal Word:

We are addressing ourselves to the families in this community and vicinity whom we do not yet number among our customers and friends!

It being impossible to tell our story by word of mouth so that all may hear, we ask your consideration of the facts which we will print previous to our opening that you may know the kind of organization that the J. C. Penney Company is and the kind of Department Stores it conducts which "serve more than a million homes."

J.C. Penney Co.

Our Popular Department Stores

bring a country-wide advantage to the very threshold of your home—to the threshold of millions of homes in town and on the farm and in the most remote towns and communities. They bring to the housewife and to each member of her home, the great joy of personal inspection and selection of stylish, reliable goods before buying.

These 676 Stores—the largest unit of Dry Goods, Clothing and Shoe distributing centers in the World—are available to additional hundreds of thousands of families because of the good roads that have been built. The long, tedious journeys by horse and wagon of yesteryears have been reduced to a few hours' run in the automobile.

The Meaning to You and Your Family of a 676-Store Buying Power

THE fact that the Organization of which this new Store is to be a part, is opening scores of Stores this year, naturally has little interest to you except as to how these many Stores, and particularly the one soon to be opened here, will benefit you.

Compare, if you will, the results obtained by an engine of 1-horsepower with that of one of 676-horsepower! How insignificant the little engine becomes!

The 676-Store Buying Power of this Organization assures you the lowest possible prices at all times for a uniformly reliable quality of goods. This means much to you.

Buying most we buy for less, and selling most we sell for less. Our buying and selling power means that you are to have a saving power here that will enable you to keep many additional dollars in the family purse during each year.

Cash Buying a Vital Factor to You!

Another meaning our Stores have for you: We sell for cash only! Therefore, you get the full benefit from our cash buying. Having no "charge accounts," we do not sustain losses from non-collectable bills which cash buyers are called upon to make up by paying higher prices. The same, square, even treatment is accorded alike to all always.

We ask you to carry home your purchases. Thus you are saved the cost of an expensive delivery system.

Our constant aim is to pack all the value into each purchase you make from us that is possible and to that end the fullest resources of this Organization are drawn upon that your every experience may be one of lasting pleasure, satisfaction and profit.

This Great Family of Stores Stands Indisputably In a Leading Position As Nation-Wide Distributors to the People of Reliable

Are You Weak? Does Your Back Ache?

Dayton, Ohio.—"Two years ago I suffered a nervous breakdown. I had headache, pain in my back, and was weak, at times I did not care to live. Doctors did me no good. I tried many remedies, but none helped me. Finally a friend told me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription had saved her life and wanted me to try it. Three bottles made me well and now I weigh 150 pounds. When I began with the 'Prescription' I weighed just 104. I am well and healthy and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did it. I advise every ailing woman to give this medicine a trial."—Mrs. Jennie Cassidy, 21 N. Pimples

What can I do?
"Oh, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?"
"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

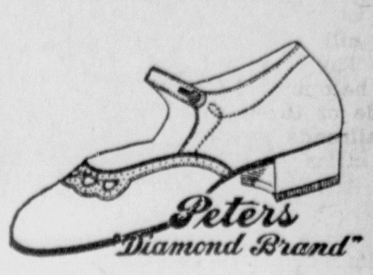

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red-blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives out pimples, blotches, blackheads, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy. All drug stores sell S. S. S. Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

Are Corn Cures Beautifiers?

And the answer is Y-E-S! most decidedly! No one with a corn can strut or smile or radiate good cheer or have an unwrinkled set of features. We carry 9 different CORN removers, one of which we highly recommend.

A Peculiar Thing—HAIR!

On certain well defined areas, HAIR is quite stylish, while on OTHER equally defined but NOT mentioned areas, it's sure a tabooed growth and is fought valiantly by thoughtful lady folks. Our De Miraculo at $1.00 is an AI REMOVER while our "93" Hair Tonic at $1.00 is as equally strong GROWER and BOTH of these classify as beautifiers!

Are You Nicely "Finished?"

Take an old musty looking chiffonier which has good lines, good wood and is well put together. Put a REAL FINISH on it and it becomes the most valuable piece of furniture in the home. But how about your OWN PERSONAL SELF? Are you allowing blotches and spots to mar YOUR FINISH? Try Rexall Shaving Lotion after you shave and watch your beauty grow! Get a real finish.

No Brush Needed!

A brush lots of times gets sorta smelly and loose in the bristles and especially does this apply to the male who travels and many times puts his brush away WET! This Barbasol at 65c a tube is merely "rubbed on" and after a minute a razor slips thru the tuff beard slicker'n grease. Try a small tube first!

Here's a Hot Letter!

Week before last I wrote here about how "Women Pay" and how statistics prove that women are paying $5,000,000 a DAY for beautification purposes!

Last Tuesday I got a long, carefully written letter evidently from a lady here in town who takes a long hard swat at my remarks! It was so good I thought it would be worth printing—part of it. She says:

"How much do MEN spend in shaving soap, razors, cigars, tobacco, flasks, cold creams, dentifrices—NOT to mention a WORD about their BOOTLEGGERS? Have you the figures on THESE items? Are women any more fussy about their persons and personalITIES than one of these godly MALES? You men like to sit back and smile indulgently at what you are pleased to call feminine frivolousness and sort of pat us on our head, so to speak, and say: 'Naughty, naughty, be careful now, little girl, of great big poppas pennies' then trot right out and blow plenty dollars on some OTHER fool thing not NEARLY as worth while as We spend OURS for."

"Sometimes you men give me a great big pain! What if we DO spend $5,000,000 a day to look good, feel good and BE good! We GET something for OUR money while you spend I'll bet a heap more than us on things that NEVER show, are of no value, and GET you nothing."

I wish I had more space to give some more of what she wrote for it sure did lay me out cold! And for the life of me, I don't see where she got her peeve for certainly I didn't say one SOUR word about that $5,000,000 a day.

DOC SAYRE.

Shorty Says:

My friend Amos claims that every time a girl blushes nowadays she scorches a dime's worth of rouge but ask a man what Lock, Stock and Barrel refers to and you'll find that it's NOT a GUN he's talking about and BOTH of these folks get along just lovely. I hate to see Doc get in arguments of this sort.

MEN Is Your Hair Friendly?

Do you take off your hat with a sweeping Chesterfieldian gesture fearlessly allowing the fresh breezes to blow as they will, KNOWING that your hair will STAY IN PLACE? HA! Use STACOMB and a Pocket Comb regularly and it will give you a confidence in your appearance not obtainable otherwise. We carry these—both of 'em—in large variety.

Police And Fountain News!

Sodas nowadays are struttin' plenty high—It's the weather, of course, if you MUST know why. They're all struck up and blushing and red! Their popularity has gone to their head.

We've got them here any size or shape—Flavors from Nectar to Malaga Grape. So trickle in and bring your thirst—The third one'll taste as good as the first.

A Woman Notes MANY Things!

You may THINK you're getting away with it but MOST of the time you're NOT! The growth of messy cuticle about your nails, the uneven edges and cracked corners tell her a story of neglect and indifference she generally disapproves of. One of these timber, keen edge files, pocket size, are of big help in a mess of this sort. Cost only 20c each.

THE BEST MONTH

THIS is the year's tip top month. It brings the longest days and the best days. June grass is cleanest and June trees are greenest. It is the month of gay blossoms and high-flying clouds. Average all the Junes of your lifetime and you will find that the result approximates the year's perfection.

And yet for a good reason, we labor through June instead of making the best month our chosen month of rest and play. The reason is that the hot, tiresome summer months loom ahead of June. In order to be privileged to loaf in June most of us would be compelled to pay the penalty of working through July and August. The prospect would be so disheartening that it would mar the pleasure of a June vacation.

Even though we must make June a work month we may, if we are resourceful, enjoy June's gifts. We may save our off-hours for little trips into the country, or we may putter about our own premises and persuade ourselves that we are working while in reality we are only making yard or garden activity an excuse for soaking ourselves in the glory of the month. We may, for once, decline to take June for granted.

We make take an aggressively active interest in the rich and solacing verdure; we may make a mental note that June sunshine and June clouds are joys to be received with enthusiastic gratitude instead of being accepted merely as a matter of course. Our mental attitude has a great deal to do with our enjoyment of June. Working or loafing, as we choose, make much or little of the year's best month.

THE INSTINCT TO KILL

EVERY winter come reports of the slaughtering in the West of wild animals forced from the mountains of the protected national parks by the heavy snows into the clutches of "sportsmen." Every fall from those states where legislatures provide open seasons for hunting and the licensing of hunters issue statements of vast numbers of huntsmen in field and forest and of the extent of their prey.

Civilization with its varied departments of business, religion, education and culture, after these many centuries has been unable to erase the human instinct to kill. To be sure, wars are less frequent and the taking of human life is punishable by death, but the process of evolution is slow and the perfection of humanity still slower. For many generations hence men, and women, too, will continue to be inspired in the wanton slaying of the innocent denizens of the open spaces and the wooded hills.

Conceded that the world was created for the perpetuation and good of mankind, there was a time when the killing of wild animals was vindicated by man's need of food. Perhaps there are still instances where the wild beings of the woods are sacrificed to appease man's hunger but too often hunting in this day and age is the satisfying of man's inherited instinct to kill.

It is futile to hope for something different in the future for the hunter is rapidly and persistently increasing in numbers. There is some consolation in the concern which the states and the federal government are showing in the preservation of wild life. To this concern and it only is the nation indebted for the fact that there still exists some animal life in its wild state.

BATTALION INSPECTION AT O. S. AND S. O. HOME OVER WEEK END

Inspection of the Cadet Battalion of the O. S. and S. O. Home will be conducted at the institution Saturday and Sunday according to Major Leroy V. John, military commander.

Colonel Don L. Caldwell, 147th Infantry, Cincinnati, assisted by Major Richard Smithhurst, 147th Infantry, Cincinnati and other officers, will conduct the inspection.

The general inspection will be followed by a series of specialties by each company. Company D will present callisthenics; Company A will give close order drill, silent march and cadence drill; Company C will give extension order drill and demonstration of a company in attack.

SPRING VALLEY

Plans for Memorial Day were considerably spoiled here owing to the rain in the morning. The children were taken in the school truck instead of marching as planned. The address by Rev. Walley was given in the town hall. The people of the community very much appreciated having some of the American Legion present to take part at the cemetery. A large crowd was present in spite of the rain.

Mr. James Finley and friend of Cincinnati, were guests of Mrs. Anna Finley, Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Moorman and Miss Bertha Day, of Jamestown, were guests Monday of Mrs. Alice Johnson and daughter.

Mrs. Flora Mason visited the first part of the week with her son Irwin, and family, of Dayton.

Read of Other Women Who Found Health

Brooklyn, New York.—Mrs. G. Hegmann of 35 Central Ave., was in a run-down condition and could not do her housework. She could not sleep at night. Her story is not an unusual one. Thousands of women find themselves in a similar condition at some time in their lives. "I found my relief in my letter box," wrote Mrs. Hegmann, "and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got relief." Mrs. Hegmann also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Herb Medicine and Lydia E. Pinkham's Pills for Constipation, with good results. She says, "I am recommending you medicines to all I know who have symptoms the same as mine, and to others whom I think it will help. You may use my statement as a testimonial, and I will answer any letters sent to me by women who would like information regarding your medicines."

There are women in your state—perhaps in your town—who have written letters similar to this one telling how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped them.

WILSON POOL WILL OPEN WITH SPECIAL PROGRAM NEXT WEEK

Plans for an elaborate opening and water Carnival at the Wilson Swimming Pool, W. Church St., June 9, from 7 to 8 p. m., are being laid.

With continued cold weather, formal opening of the pool has been delayed. Music will be furnished by Harmony Kings. A grand march will be staged around the entire pool, by all those taking part in the contest, in bathing suits. A six-year old "mascot" of the swimmers will lead the parade. Events of the evening include: fifty yard dash, swimmer to choose his own style of stroke, for boys fifteen years of age and over. Free-for-all tub race, using hands or feet, no paddles allowed for the entire length of the pool.

Girls twenty-five yard dash, free style stroke. Duck-catching contest. Relay race-two five-men teams. Fancy diving contest, not less than three dives for the man and not more than five divers' own choice.

Boys' twenty-five yard dash, free style, boys fourteen years of age or under.

Three judges will decide all the contests. The carnival will start at 7 o'clock prompt. Program will be carried forward without delay. Entrants must register before the contest, between Friday and Tuesday night. Handsome prizes will be awarded winners in each division.

ATHLETIC MEET TO BE HELD JUNE 13 AT ORPHANS' HOME HERE

First of the annual athletic meets under direction of the State Voiture of the forty and eight society will take place June 13 at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home when members of Columbus Voiture will be picnic hosts to children of the institution.

The capitol city auto caravan is scheduled to leave Memorial Hall for Xenia at 7 a. m., with each "voyager" planning appetites. A number of members of the organization have announced their intention of providing picnic lunches for the entire cottage of twenty children.

Ernie Sims, Columbus, is chairman of the picnic committee. C. W. Rhoads and L. D. Bower are the other members. M. D. Weiss is chef de gare of the society.

Annual distribution of prizes amounting to $150 was scheduled to be made at the home by the Women's Relief Corps Friday.

THREE CANDIDATES HAVE FILED PAPERS

Three declarations of candidacy, one each for the Republican nomination for sheriff, state senator and for clerk of courts, subject to the August 10 primary, were filed with Earl Short, clerk of the board of elections, Wednesday.

Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam filed his petition for re-election; L. T. Marshall for re-election for a second term as Republican state senator from the Fifty-Sixth Senatorial District, and Harry R. Cramer, Bath Twp., Republican, entered the race for sheriff. Cramer's entry is unexpected. He will be opposed for the office by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn and possibly Ohmer Tate, Pennsylvania railroad employe. Cramer is a former member of the Xenia Police Department.

BOWLING

Another leading contender for the Class C championship of the city's individual bowling tournament has fallen by the wayside leaving but two mineralite artists in the field for the honor of meeting the Class A and Class B winners in the championship match.

Jesse Anderson is the latest Class C bowler to drop away. He lost one in three games to Curt Free also forfeiting his chance to tie Perry Swindler for leadership in this division. Carl Highley is the only other bowler in this division with a chance to tie Swindler for first place.

Old Folks Need

a Mild Laxative

—Not a "Physic"

Dr. W. B. Caldwell

AT THE AGE OF 83

Most men and women past fifty chronically constipated. It never must give to the bowels some occasional help else they suffer from constipation. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels.

Is your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting natural bowel "regularity"—or must you purge and "physic" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural, regular bowel movement even for those gripes, sickness or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself. —Adv.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By Franklin Parker.)

JACOB AND ESAU

GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you. Ephesians 4:32.

LESSON TEXT: Genesis 25:19-34; 26:34-28; 9: 32:33-17.

TIME—Jacob's return to Canaan, B. C. 1747 (Beecher) Jacob being 98 years old, Joseph 6 years, and Isaac 157 years.

PLACE—On the Jabbok, the eastern tributary of the Jordan.

INTRODUCTION—Jacob journeyed from Bethel to Paddan-aram and lived in the home of his uncle Laban, who was his match in cunning, and who deceived Jacob in his marriage to his daughter. Jacob was to receive Rachel, whom he loved, for his seven years of labor for Laban, but Laban gave the sore-eyed Leah, eldest daughter, veiled, in the place of Rachel. But he labored another seven years for the one he really loved. He served Laban six years more for some cattle. When he fled to his uncle's home he did not think that twenty years of intrigue and treachery on the part of his uncle, would pass before he went back home. But his uncle paid him in the coin in which he had paid both his father and brother. Jacob was now 77 years old with two wives, eleven sons and large flocks, a rich man. The friction became greater with Laban because God had prospered Jacob and his father-in-law became more and more jealous. So because of this friction, his desire to return home, and God's command caused him to start back to his old home. He knew that he would have trouble with Laban if the latter knew that he was leaving so he departed in secret. When Laban overtook him he dictated terms with him. He was rid of the angry Laban but he had to meet the angry Esau, so he sent messengers ahead to investigate whether Esau was still in the same frame of mind as when he left him twenty years ago. These men reported that Esau was coming to meet him with 400 armed men. Jacob thought that his time had come so he wisely divided his party into two groups, so that if his brother captured one group he would thus be able to save the other. Here our lesson begins.

A CHANGED JACOB—Jacob had sent his people and flocks ahead, across the brook Jacob, and he was alone on this side. He was ready to go across himself and that night a strange personage appeared and he wrestled with Jacob and when he apparently could, or did not, throw Jacob he touched his thigh and thus disabled Jacob and then the latter realized that he had wrestled all night with a messenger of God. What was God's purpose in this. It was to transform him. After all these years Jacob was the same man, scheming etc., and he was not in just the frame of mind and heart that God desired of the man whom He was to put at the head of the new race of the covenant. God did not wish to crush but conquer Jacob and in this wrestling He made Jacob realize that he was mere clay in His hands. In this way Jacob changed as quickly as Paul was from the Pharisee, Saul, by the great ray of light from heaven on the road. We must give up our imperious self will and yield absolutely to God before we can hope to become strong in His power and might.

2. JACOB'S PRECAUTION: Jacob was a changed man but he was not sure that Esau had changed in his attitude toward him. He had sent large gifts out to Esau to appease his wrath but he looked out and saw him coming with a band of 400 armed men so he took extra precaution and divided his own band into three groups, in front him his two handmaids, with their children, next came Leah and her children, and last and safest came Rachel with Joseph, his most precious. Jacob was transformed, yet in some ways he was still the same Jacob, as Peter was the same and as Paul was still Paul. Jacob prayed as though all depended on God and then he helped as though all depended on himself. After sincere prayer God will help and direct us but He expects us to use our own will, etc., to carry out what He does direct.

3. JACOB MEETS ESAU: Jacob drew near to Esau and bowed seven times to the ground before him, thus acknowledging his wrong to Esau. God's plan worked. Esau suddenly rushed forward and wept on Jacob's neck instead of bringing vengeance on him. Thoughts of Mother, Father, and home dissolved all hatred. Today we have great use for the spirit of patience, charity and forgiveness. But most of us are too busy to think of such things but if we take time to heed this warning and entertain that spirit we will enrich our lives with something that will elevate us to a high degree of satisfaction and attainment in life that will draw us nearer and nearer to those we love and consider our friends. "If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar, for if he loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, he cannot love God whom he hath not seen." (1 John 4:20.)

4. ESAU REFUSES TO ACCEPT JACOB'S GIFT: Esau inquired about his wives and children and Jacob informed him that God had been good to him and that the cattle were a gift to him (Esau) but this Esau stated that he had enough of his own. His friendship and forgiveness was not to be commercialized. Few of us think that we have enough and seem to plan everything by the dollar standard. This degrades and makes vulgar the truest and finest relations and richest treasures of life. Paul discovered the better way and happy secret of life when he said: "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therein to be content." (Philippians 4:11.)

5. A GIFT ACCEPTED: Jacob did not take advantage of Esau's rejection of the former gift but stated, "Take, I pray thee, my gift that is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with me, and because I have enough." It was a gift from the heart. He was happy to give because he knew that all was the gift to him from God. We have not learned the fact that it is more blessed to give than to receive, and when we come to the realization that all things are the gift of God we will become more charitable and consecrate all to His service.

Let us strive to be just in all things and see that all men have enough. We can not forgive or be forgiven until we are just.

THE CHURCH AND THE MAN

Some time ago a man said, "This is the first time I have been in a church for ten years." He had no doubt been spending his Sundays at business, or auto trips, golfing, fishing or hunting. He had given the church very little thought of the work it was doing very little attention. All this time he was ignoring the church he was receiving benefits from it. His property advanced in price and was made safe by the influence of the church. The society he lived in and his blessings and luxury he enjoyed were made possible by the church. You could not persuade him to move his family to a churchless city. For the sake of his business, his home and his children, he wishes to live in the church community, and yet he never did one thing for the church. He never attended the services, or contributed a cent to its support. If all people would assume the same attitude toward the church as he, the church would go out of existence in a short time and the country lapse back into barbarism.

No man can escape the responsibility that rests upon him for what he ought to do. Are you this man? If so stop and consider the greatest asset to any city, which is the Church and line up in its services and support. The Churches of the city invite you.

BIBLE STORY

Since it could be no better, Jacob agreed. The feast ran its course, and when the week was done, he wedded Rachel, and then for seven years more he served his wife, as he had served seven years for the promise of her, and Jacob learned that craft was always met with craft; for he and his uncle were well matched pair, strove all these years to see which could get the better of the other. Ten times Laban changed his nephew's wages but ever the more he strove to over reach Jacob, the more the profit seemed to turn to the young man, till Laban's sons were furious with envy and growled, "Jacob had robbed us of all of our father's wealth."

Small love had ever been between the two, but now it was less than ever and Jacob saw it. So he called Rachel and Leah out to the open pasture where he might speak with none to hear. There he told them of all the envy and falseness with which their father had treated him, and also how God had spoken to him, bidding him to return to Canaan with his children. Rachel and Leah needed little persuasion. "What is our father to us, or what does he care-for us?" They said. "He sold us, and gained the price of us himself; and now he treats us as strangers. Thank God you have gained something from him for us and our children. Do thou what is in thy heart, as God hath bidden thee."

Now it happened at this time that Laban went to another camp for the sheep shearing. So Jacob gathered his wives, children, 11 sons and one daughter who had been born to him and them, and the servants and all the wealth and herds that he had gained. His wives and children he put upon camels, and, driving his flocks before him, he journeyed away from the Land of the Rivers towards his old home. Ere they fled from Haran, Rachel stole from her father's house the fetich-images in which he trusted and bore them with her. It may be that she feared their power in her father's hands, but rather we think she merely wished to vex her father by their loss.

Not for three days did Laban hear of the flight. Then, gathering his clan, he pressed after the lumbering caravan in hot pursuit across the desert; and, after the seven days haste, he overtook the fugitives in the outskirts of Mount Gilead, on the east side of Jordan. Fain would he have done Jacob a mischief, for his heart was hot with anger, but God spoke to him in a dream at night and forbade him. Nevertheless, when they met he spoke fiercely: "Why hast thou carried off my daughters like slaves in a foray? Why all this secret stealing away? Why didst thou not tell me, that I might send thee away with feasting and music, and kiss my daughters and grandchildren ere we parted? Easily could I harm thee now, but God has held my hand. Yet, even though I need to atone my fetich from me?"

Now Jacob knew not that Rachel had stolen the fetich from him. "If one of mine has stolen thy fetich," he cried, "he shall die. Search for thine own and take it to thee." So Jacob sought in Jacob's tent, and Leah's and the servants' tents, but nought of his could he find. Last, he went into the tent of Rachel but his daughter had hid the fetich in the camels-saddle and sat upon it. So Laban was baffled and his search was in vain. Now it was Jacob's turn to be angry. "What have I done against thee?" he said bitterly, "Thou has pursued me as though I was a thief."

ENGINEERS REPORT
PROGRESS IS BEING MADE WITH PAVING

Engineers report that such excellent progress is being made in connection with the remodeling of the Columbus and Cincinnati Road on the eight mile stretch in Xenia and Spring Valley Twp. that the improvement will probably be completed by the latter part of August or early in September.

The work was started in April and the new stretch of road is being paved with surface-treated macadam from the Xenia Corporation line to the Warren County line. This is being rapidly completed with the exception of a stretch of .673 mile in Spring Valley village, for which no contract has been awarded.

Material for the macadam treatment is obtained from the Abel magnesia quarries at Cedarville, the Casparis quarries at Centerville and Melvin and the Ohio marble quarries at Piqua. Improvement has been advanced to such a stage by the N. B. Putnam Co. contracting firm, of Port Wayne, that detour signs may be removed by August 1. The stretch, when completed, will rival the Springfield and Xenia Pike in beauty and will be as serviceable as any to be found in any section of the state. It is said.

Xenia will greatly benefit by the completion of another such hard-surfaced road, engineers believe. More business will be attracted because more motorists will be influenced to take this route and all roads leading from the city will be hard-surfaced and in excellent condition.

The Xenia route is the shortest between Columbus and Cincinnati and when the present improvement is completed considerable more traffic will be directed this way. It is said. Until the Selma-London section is paved however, the expected realignment of traffic from the Washington C. H.-Hillsboro, Washington C. H.-Wilmington and Middletown-Hamilton routes will not be experienced.

"E" Brand Apple Butter and Preserves
Are What You Will Want!

The boy or girl of yesterday who represents the man or woman of today has some knowledge of apple butter or preserves—the products of fruit, nature's gift to humankind.

The satisfying taste that in other times came from the apple butter and preserves at home, sealed the verdict, praising mother for her skill in preparing these fruits.

The careful housewife of the present day quickly turns to that brand of foodstuffs which she knows by test is the equal of that with which she was once familiar.

The Eavey Company, in placing on the market apple butter or preserves under the "E Brand," recognized primarily the necessity of making them not just as good but a little better. And volume sales of goods further have helped to keep prices below the cost possible for the housewife to duplicate.

With a sincerity of conviction the public likes quality and at the same time appreciates economy. The "E Brand" label carries with it a positive guarantee of values. There is no subterfuge even to the slightest degree, but on the other hand the best preparation of foodstuffs for the home that money and fifty-seven years of experience can evolve.

Character—the one thing which neither time nor circumstance can destroy—is wrapped up in every "E Brand" package.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

NANCY LARRABEE is living with her mother.

VIRGINIA LELAND, in New York. Nancy's husband, an army officer, is stationed in the Philippines, and has left his wife behind. She believes that he cares more for another woman than he does for her. While visiting in the Bahamas Islands Nancy falls in love with

BILL EWING, and returns to New York, planning to get a divorce and marry him. Her mother is much interested in

FRANK HARRISON, an elderly bachelor.

Nancy received word that Jim has died at sea.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XLII—ANOTHER MESSAGE

THE next day I received a note from Nathalie Jordan. She had sent it to the apartment, and Frank Harrison brought it to the hotel and left it there for me.

"I can't understand your saying that you didn't ever want to see Bill again," she had written. "Won't you please explain? He will be here very soon."

She had signed "With love, Nathalie."

I realized that I ought to see her, but somehow I didn't. Nothing mattered but Jim's death.

Virginia had so many things on her mind, because of her reconciliation with my father, that she bothered very little with me. But when I told her that I had heard from Nancy she immediately took the time to discuss my affairs.

"You say Bill Ewing wants to marry you?" she said. "Well, unless you've completely lost your senses you'll marry him—after a decent time, of course. Don't be silly. Remember, you were quite willing to stay here with me when Jim went off to the Philippines. You just think you cared more for him than you really did. I can't blame you; having him die so suddenly would make you feel that way, of course. But, after all, you'll get over this before long. And Bill Ewing has lots of money; his father was old Colonel Ewing; and was worth millions, and Bill inherited half the fortune he left."

I just couldn't answer her. It seemed incredible that she could talk that way. But Virginia had always considered the main chance before anything else.

"After Jim's funeral you might go away somewhere," she went on. "You'll find that it won't be long before you'll be very glad indeed to see your old friends. Now, let me telephone Nathalie Jordan for you, and ask her to come in this afternoon for a little while. You owe her that because she's been such a good friend to you."

She went to the telephone, and I left the room. I couldn't quite understand how it happened that Virginia, mercenary as she was, had left town just as Frank Harrison was about to propose to her, and come back to my father, whom she had divorced. She had always quarreled with him bitterly; I couldn't believe that there was much real affection there.

"I'm lost without her."

resolved that she was not going to rule my life any longer. I didn't want to have trouble with her.

Nancy Jordan was awfully sweet to me that afternoon, and when she heard why I had felt that I didn't want to see Bill Ewing again she sympathized wholly with me.

"You must come up to our country place and stay with us, where you are ready to go away," she said. "I'll love to have you."

Virginia was right there so I couldn't refuse, but I decided that I wouldn't go when the time came, even though I did accept her invitation just then.

I expected further word at almost any time about what was to be done with Jim's body. I supposed that it would be sent East, and buried there. He had no people. I was the only one who was intimately connected with him.

But no word came. Day after day passed, until it was a week since I had received the first message.

And then came another.

"Meet me at the Grand Central station, four-thirty Thursday," the telegram read. It came from San Francisco. And it was signed A. L. I knew no A. L. I supposed it must be one of Jim's brother officers.
